

Interactive Read Aloud Tips

The purpose of an interactive read aloud is to provide opportunities for students to engage with texts through listening and discussion and to promote deeper understanding about the meaning of texts.

Planning:

- ❖ Read the selected book
- ❖ Decide 1-2 places (with post-its) to pause: Think Aloud

Before you Read:

- ❖ Talk about the author and illustrator
- ❖ Invite students to discuss what they already know about the topic
- ❖ Make predictions about what will be in the text
- ❖ Build vocabulary

During:

- ❖ Stop to invite quick comments during reading: promote student thinking within, beyond, and about the text.
- ❖ Tricky Vocabulary

After:

- ❖ Have an authentic conversation about the story
- ❖ Check predictions
- ❖ Wonder what happened next
- ❖ Go back into the story and reread a favorite word, phrase or sentence
- ❖ Go back and talk about a favorite illustration
- ❖ Did this story remind you of a different one?

Have Fun!
